Reflections from the Rev.

“Feed My Sheep”

Reflection for World Communion/Bread for the World Sunday

Scripture: John 21:15-21

In the 21st chapter of the book of St. John we read about a very unsuccessful night of fishing for the disciples. Peter and some of the others were out on the water all night long and caught nothing. Jesus comes on the scene and as usual, a miracle happens; these professional fishermen have the best catch of their lives! When the disciples get to shore, Jesus has a fire going and is preparing fish for them to eat. Jesus then asks Peter the following question three times: “Peter, do you love me?” Each time Peter responds, “Yes Lord, you know that I love you.” Jesus’ response to these three replies is “Feed my sheep. Tend my lambs. Feed my sheep.” I believe that this command is still true for us today. The church must put itself in Peter’s shoes and allow Jesus to ask the same question of us. And if our response is yes then we must feed Christ’s sheep and tend Christ’s lambs. We must feed them with the spiritual food that flows from the pulpit to the pews on Sunday morning AND also feed those who are hungry with actual food. Friends, at this very moment over 795 million of the world’s 7.3 billion people are going hungry. While there are many of us who have more than enough food there are friends and neighbors out there who are struggling with hunger.

On Sunday October 1st 2017 our church will join with thousands of other churches worldwide in celebrating World Communion Sunday. Worship will be at 10:00am at the First United Church of Christ. After worship we will meet in Fellowship Hall at First Presbyterian Church for a brief luncheon presentation entitled, “Lunch in the World’s 7 Poorest Countries.” If you are able, please try to attend both worship and the luncheon. There will be a few baskets at the luncheon for money donations. All donations will go to “Bread for the World.” An organization that works to feed and support legislation to help get food to hungry people. Please join us as our two churches come together to remember our Lord in communion and remember the 795 million people around the world struggling with hunger.

A Prayer:

Almighty God, thank you for feeding us with physical and spiritual food. May Your example lead us to do the same for others. Amen

In the Name of the God Who Feeds Us Well,

Rev. James R. Robinson

UCC poised to offer long-term assistance in Puerto Rico

September 26, 2017

Written by Connie Larkman

The United Church of Christ Disaster Ministries and other relief agencies are poised to assist the people of Puerto Rico, in an effort to stem the unfolding humanitarian crisis in the U.S. commonwealth following the massive devastation left behind by Hurricane Maria five days ago.

The Category 5 hurricane, which has left more than $20 billion in damages, wiped out most of the communication on the island, and left many of Puerto Rico's 3.4 million people without access to clean water. Roads remain impassable, the power grid is decimated, cell towers are down and very little information is coming out of the country to families and friends on the mainland.

But UCC Disaster Ministries is reaching out through Global Ministries (the UCC-Disciples of Christ common overseas ministry) and FEMA for information and with the offer of recovery help.

"We stand ready to support our fellow Americans in Puerto Rico and call on all our churches to continue to pray and give financially for what will be a long road ahead," said Zach Wolgemuth, UCC Disaster Ministries executive. Gifts to the UCC Hurricane 2017 fund will be used to assist as long-term needs become more clear.

President Trump, planning a trip next Tuesday to the crippled island, said today that assessment work is underway and relief supplies of food, water and medical supplies are arriving hourly from the U.S. mainland. But as Wolgemuth notes, "There will be a great need for organizations like us who bring a spiritual component to our approach with the added ability to be flexible and nimble as needs shift and change over time."

The UCC is in a particularly good position to offer that assistance, with strong relationships with both long-term Global Ministries partners and FEMA contacts. Since the island is an American territory, the UCC can help bridge those relationships and help the groups work together.

"One of the things that makes UCC Disaster Ministries unique in this situation is that we have deep contacts with church partners and with the U.S. FEMA system. Puerto Rico as a U.S. territory and Puerto Ricans as American citizens makes this space potentially very empowering for Puerto Ricans as they recover and rebuild from this devastating disaster," said the Rev. Mary Schaller Blaufuss, team leader of the UCC Global Sharing of Resources team. "We will be present in early response, intermediate and especially long term recovery."

Monetary donations are most important, especially since the small island has no place to safely store or sort in-kind donations, and has very limited means for moving and distribution. The National Disaster Interfaith Network has indicated that Puerto Rico may be forced to ban the import of goods that are not pre-requested or approved.
